DH Pace Operations in Tempe Relocate to New Facility

After March 2022, DH Pace operations in Tempe are moving to a new facility. Our new address is 9235 South McKemy Street, Tempe, AZ 85284. Our phone numbers, email addresses and other contact information have stayed the same.

“ Our Phoenix operation has grown steadily since we started here in 2003. We began to outgrow our existing facility and started the search for a new one a few years ago. After a long search, I’m very excited to be moving into a new location that is better suited to accommodate our needs today and for the foreseeable future. The new building doubles our warehouse and office space. And, we will have ample parking for our expanding staff. Our new location will also allow us to enlarge our fabrication areas and increase our stock levels to better serve our customers. We chose this specific location so we may continue to be centrally located within the city. We believe this location will suit our needs and allow us to better serve the future needs of our customers. If you are used to visiting our office in person, please be sure to visit us at our new location. ”
